

Why do Mormon Prophets Receive Prophecies?

by Jack Naneek | Mar 9, 2017 | Featured, Prophets, The Seeing Eye Dog | 1 comment

Share This Post! Because Sharing Really is Caring!

Jack Naneek

Jack Naneek is a free lance artist based in Boston, Massachusetts. He writes, makes movies and videos, reads, and listens, a lot. But really, he just likes to draw and think. He's a lifelong member of the church.

All posts by Jack Naneek

1 Comment

mario zullo on March 9, 2017 at 8:46 am

How else would these so-called 15 prophets, seers and revelators justify making this much money until they don't breathe any longer? They say that one should do an honest day's work for an honest day's wage. They do it by talking and given sermons all the time so that others will know what they need to do because we are not smart enough to know for ourselves what is right and what is wrong. Once God in the flesh showed up and set the records straight and what he said and did was written down the need for prophets was eliminated. This is the only church that instead of moving forward and recognizing what He did for us they want to keep their members in the slavery era so that their leaders can continue to have control over them and not have them be free to make their own choices and decisions.

Reply

Search RationalFaiths

Subscribe to RationalFaiths via Email

Want to get the latest RationalFaiths posts on the (near) daily? Subscribe below to get an email notification in your inbox when we publish something new!

Subscribe